oils on Parsnip or Water Hemlock

In view of the loss this plant incurs a number of farmers in the Cooking Lake region and other parts of the province, a few remarks from the government bulletin No. 7 may be timely.

"This is a plant which in Europe and the various parts of America is known to be harmful. The poisonous properties seem to be much the same wherever found. It is parsnip-like in appearance, but the flowers are white, and it is found growing in low, damp places or on banks of creeks and lakes throughout the Territories, being much more abundant after a series of wet seasons. It may be distinguished by the cluster of fleshy roots, which have a sweet, aromatic odor. These roots are the most poisonous part of the plant, containing as they do a volatile which is especially powerful after the stalks have died away in the fall and spring. It would not, however, be safe to say that the stems, leaves and seeds are not poisonous, as it would seem that a number of horses were killed by cropping portions of this growing in a pasture near Regina in the latter part of August last year. The symptoms in this case were, 'Diarrhoea with weakness, temperature about 100 degrees. Two showed partial paralysis with slight muscular spasms. The heart action was irregular and a tumultuous nature. All recovered.' In this case the animals must have had a very small quantity of the poison, which is so strong that a piece of the root the size of a marble may prove fatal to a man. The symptoms of this poisoning of sheep as observed in Montana were an attempt to rush in any direction, cerebral frenzy, accompanied by involuntary muscular movements, which suggested colic, the respiration was labored and irregular, in some cases cattle being poisoned died in fifteen minutes after the first sign. Sheep have died suddenly at various points in the Maple Creek district for several seasons, and the writer was asked to look over the range for the cause of this loss. In every place where deaths have been frequent cirrui was found to be growing near where the sheep had been watered. Permanent nature of poison should be promptly administered and morphine may be administered hypodermically in doses as follows: For sheep, 1-12 grains; for cattle and horses, 3 to 10 grains. If drugs are not handy, try melted lard. The Indians are said to successfully treat persons who have been poisoned by death by giving about four drachms of gunpowder in less than a pint of water and well stirred, and then giving lukewarm water as an emetic."

News Items About the City

DAMAGED BY FLOODED SEWERS

Merchants and business men along Jasper ave. between First street and McDougall avenue have suffered considerably the past day or two during the heavy rain storms by the sewage backing up in the sewers and flooding their cellars. Tuesday the damage to stock in several business places was extensive and the cellars were flooded with manure, mud and all sorts of sewage.

The Bulletin investigated the matter yesterday and Engineer Keely when asked as to the cause of the floods, said that there had been a great deal of rain the last day or two, and the sewer along Jasper avenue was only a small 12 inch pipe which is expected to handle sewage from a great portion of the most thickly settled part of the city. The heavy rains have flooded this small pipe, and the pipe being unable to carry off the surplus water the sewage has been crowded back into the cellars. Amongst the firms who have suffered heaviest are the Douglas Co., F. Perkins, J. B. Mercer, Hallier & Aldridge and others. At the Douglas Co., besides damaging the stock of wall paper the sewage backed up so far as to flood the music room at the rear of the store.

The question of the relief of these conditions has been under discussion in the council, but nothing has been done. The merchants claim that when the Jasper avenue sewer was laid some three years ago, the plans called for a main sewer to be laid along the lanes at the rear, but that the main sewer had never been laid. City Engineer Keely had a report, and plans before the council Tuesday evening, for the relief of the Jasper avenue sewer, but the report did not come up. The plans as prepared by Mr. Keely, if adopted, would relieve the Jasper avenue sewer of the necessity of handling any sewage from west of First street, the western portion, consisting of some 90 acres, being drained into the new system. As the new system has not yet been completed it would be almost a year before this plan of relief could be carried out.

NEARLY WIPED OUT THE DEBT

The ladies of the Women's Hospital Society are pleased to announce that the gratifying sum of $1259.55, was realized by the hospital booth on the fair grounds. The expenses will be about $200, leaving over $1000 to pay on the debt, reducing it to about $100. The ladies desire to thank the friends who generously assisted in the work many very substantial donations were received and thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Montgomery, of the Edmonton Coal Co., supplied the wood and Mr. John Walters the coal. A large box of provisions and a cheque for $10.00 was the generous donation from the ladies of Fort Saskatchewan.

TENT AND FURNITURE DESTROYED

A tent on the corner of Sutherland and Government streets belonging to Mr. Houghton, who works in Williamson Bros' east end store, was destroyed by fire last evening. The tent contained the owner's trunk, violin, clothes and considerable furniture. It is supposed to be the act of some young boys who were heard in the tent playing the violin during the afternoon. Last week Mr. Houghton had $15 taken from the tent while he was at work.

LIBERAL EXECUTIVE

There will be a meeting of the executive of the Liberal Association in the club rooms this evening at 8.30. It is requested that there be a full attendance as business of importance is to be transacted.

TWO NEW WIRES TO EDMONTON

James Kent, manager of telegraphs for the C.P.R., W. J. Camp, electrical engineer, and B. S. Jenkins, general superintendent of telegraphs on the western lines, arrived on the afternoon train yesterday. To a reporter Mr. Jenkins said: "We are on our usual tour of inspection at this time. Yes, the development necessitates additional telegraph facilities. We will within three months, likely in less time, bring into Edmonton two additional wires one of which will be operated duplex exclusively for Edmonton business. This duplex connection with the main line will mean flash service with the east. No way offics will be in the circuit. We will also provide a heavy copper wire via Saskatoon for direct connection with Winnipeg. A section of this wire is already strung and when the railway is completed the balance will be strung. Edmonton will have unequalled telegraph facilities."

PIGGERY CASE DISMISSED

The case of the city vs. Williamson Bros. for violating the health by-law came up before Magistrate Wade yesterday evening and was settled. It came out in the evidence that when Williamson Bros. had the charges laid against them they wrote the Health Officer to find out upon what terms it Strathcona, July 10.—Mr. Waters, of the Elk River Lumber Co., Fernie, B. C., is in town. He came up to purchase sixteen teams of heavy draft horses for his company. He has been successful in securing several teams. Mr. Nash, an old pioneer of Strathcona and Northern Alberta is registered at the Royal Hotel. Mr. Nash was a resident of this town about 12 years ago and assisted in cutting out and running the lines for the streets here. He noticed wonderful changes and improvements since those days. He is here for the purpose of selling his real estate in town. He is now a resident of Pechland, B.C.

Mr. R. Parks of Woodstock, Ont., and Mr. Milligan of Woodstock, Ont., left for their homes today. They have been in town for about five weeks. They have invested in real estate here and purpose to return at an early date. Mr. T. Scarr has just come into town from North Wisconsin. He went out yesterday in company with Mr. O. Johnson, and Mr. G. Lord to locate homesteads northwest of the capital. Messrs. Alexander, McLeod, Eyres and Taylor, C.P.R. surveyors came up from Calgary last evening and are registered at the Strathcona. They are up to attend to the survey work in connection with the high level bridge and C.P.R. shops.

Mr. E. A. Brickman, of Strathcona, district wears a broad smile since the exhibition. His registered Percheron stallion, H. D. Gerolinio No. 4171 and five colts won silver medals in Agricultural classes and colts won best prizes, one 2nd and one 3rd. His registered Percheron stallion, Sam in H. D. class and three colts won 1st in Agricultural Class, and three colts won 2nd in general purpose class. Also medals for best farm team three years old.

The Foster Bros. who have been in town for a few days on business left today for their ranch on the Pembina. Messrs. Buckmaster and Potter, came in town a few days ago from Minnesota, U.S. and have been looking over the country. They seem anxious to buy land and become citizens of Northern Alberta.

was possible to keep the piggery and for suggestions as to any sanitary arrangements that would be reasonably necessary to protect the public health. The Medical Health Officer said he had visited the place yesterday and found no pigs and that steps were being taken by the firm to have the premises cleaned up in an approved manner. The firm were apparently trying to abate the nuisance.

Under these circumstances the magistrate imposed no penalty, but dismissed the case with costs paid by the defendants. The other charges were withdrawn.

SECRETARY OF STATE PRESENTS A SURPLUS

The Department of the Secretary of State has fallen into line and turned from a burden on the public funds to a self-sustaining department with an annual balance to the good. Last year the department yielded a surplus of $19,000 and the surplus for the present year is placed at $50,000. In 1894-95 the cost of maintenance of the department was $47,812.73 and the revenue only $5,763.95, leaving a net deficit of $42,048.78 to be made good from the public funds. In 1904-5 despite the incomparably greater volume of work devolving upon it the running expenses of the department were $1,658.00 less than ten years ago while the revenue amounted to $65,586.65. In place of costing $42,000 more than its receipts the department last year paid its way and deposited some $19,000 to the credit of the receiver-general of the Dominion. This result is all the more satisfactory that the department of the secretary of state is not usually regarded as one likely to produce revenue equal to the expense. This function of the department is not the production of revenue, but it is a highly important function and that in performing this the department should be able to produce revenue to more than discharge its expense should be a cause of gratification.

TO EXPEDITE THE DISCHARGE OF BUSINESS

When Parliament assembles at next session the members will have to accommodate themselves to a new set of rules of late has been the habit of time and expedite the discharge of business.

One of the commonest abuses of the Rules of late has been the habit of members springing to their feet before the orders of the day were called and formally moving an adjournment for the purpose of airing some real or imaginary grievance. This privilege is only supposed to be exercised in matters of urgent importance but this undemanding has been more and more broadly interpreted until it is practically ignored. In consequence the House has on frequent occasions been held up for hours from beginning the actual business of the day, while some talkative gentleman manufactured an adjournment for the purpose of discussing any particular question must notify the speaker before the sitting opens. Then at the proper time he must apply to the House for permission to move the adjournment. He will only be permitted to proceed in case he secures the consent of twenty members.

No attempt has ever been made in the Canadian House to apply what is commonly known as the "closure" as a means of limiting the length of debates, but the Speaker is given power to insist on the relevancy of a speech to the question under consideration, which it is hoped will be effective in terminating the all too frequent inundations of irrelevant loquacity.

Beginning next session the House will meet at 1 p.m. on Wednesdays and rise at 6 p.m., thus leaving the members free for one evening during the week. Ordinarily the House at present assembles at 3 p.m., adjourns at 6 p.m. for dinner, resuming in the evening. Should it be found by experiment with the new regulation for Wednesday that the flowers of eloquence blossom less profusely in the prosaic light of day than in the long silly watches of the night the innovation may be extended and the nocturnal assemblages be accordingly shortened or even abandoned.

The scale of fees for private bills is being changed so as to penalize applicants whose measures are not introduced during the first two months of the session. Suspension of rules to admit such measures will hereafter cost the promoters more money, which it is expected will result in the private bills being introduced and disposed of earlier in the session.

The outstanding lesson of this revision is that the members realize that the discharge of business is at present needlessly retarded by abuse of the rules and that so far as possible these will be amended to prevent a continuation of the delays. In the final event however, the rules are only rules and as such are liable to evasion or alteration. The real and permanent relief from the needless delay of business with or without rules, must lie in the determination of the House that business shall not be needlessly delayed. The purpose of the rules is to make easier the enforcement of this determination.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(Special to the Bulletin)
London, July 11.—With a record attendance the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire was opened this morning by Lord Egin who said he had returned in the Colonist's office to look at both sides of questions and wished to recommend discussion on every side. He would not venture to advise the congress as to its course but hoped they would attain the ambition of all for the united empire. The members spoke highly of the hospitality of Montreal at the last congress. A motion of congratulation to Chamberlain passed amid cheers. Sir George Drummond of Montreal presented the first resolution which combined the Canadian resolutions urging preferential trade between the United Kingdom and the Colonies. He spoke for all the leading Canadian boards and the manufacturers association. Maintaining the present practical importance of calling a colonial conference in 1907 to give effect to a decree to make Canada an independent nation permanently allied to Great Britain. To this idea the encouragement of the United States trade the growth of the reciprocity party across the line had long constituted a grave danger. Within two generations Canada would have a population as great as the British Islands and this market was worth capturing.

Edmonton's Call for Factories

(From the special Western Canada Board of Trade number of "Hardware and Metal.")

Edmonton offers to the Eastern Canada manufacturer some very attractive inducements to follow the movement westward and establish in the Alberta capital branch factories, which in less than a generation will probably be as large as or larger than, the present size of the parent factories in the east. Edmonton is calling for industries, a large and rapidly increasing market in the vicinity of Edmonton is calling for manufactured goods, and Edmonton's call will not remain long unheeded, the Alberta market will not always be supplied with manufactured goods from the east. Manufacturers will appreciate the opportunities in Edmonton, and they who "get in on the ground floor," those who have to commence operations, will reap the largest benefits. If Canadian manufacturers do not seize the opportunity others will.

Perhaps the Canadian manufacturer who reads this will remark that it is an old story, that the market is limited and he can very well continue to supply it from his eastern factory, that Edmonton is an over-boomed town, that there is bound to be a crash sooner or later, that the time isn't ripe for branching out in the west.

But what is the lesson of history? From the very first, Western Canada has suffered (and the east has also suffered) from the timidity and lack of confidence of the people of Eastern Canada. It was only after a bitter political struggle that the building of the C. P. R. was accomplished. Probably only a few of those who supported Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper in the fight for the building of the first transcontinental really had any measure of their enthusiasm and confidence. The personal magnanimity of the leaders and loyalty to party—these were the factors which had the most potent influence in securing the support of the vast majority of those who voted for the construction of the C. P. R.

The great majority of both political parties lacked faith and were wanting in those powers of imagination without which men can accomplish very little constructive work.

When the C. P. R. was building adventurous and restless spirits from the older provinces moved west, and very soon their hope of agricultural, commercial and industrial possibilities became profound convictions. They began to tell their eastern friends of the great opportunities in the new Canada beyond the lakes.

The boom of the early '80's, an east-Canadian boom almost wholly, rose and fell, enthusiasm waned, faith turned to doubt and for ten years the east's interest in the west. The dauntless spirit of those who in the prairie had adopted kept up the propaganda, and a few responded to their call.

But Eastern Canada merely shrugged its shoulders and laughed at the enthusiasm which seized every man who moved west. It was plainly hinted that the western air was hard on truthfulness and the west was jokingly referred to as

"That bourne from which no truthful traveller ever returns."

Eastern Canada lacked faith!

The west still called for Ontario farmers and there still travelled eastward the same story of the fertility of the western soil. Two Ontario counties, Huron and Bruce, responded to the call, but for the most part the invitation came to too cautious or unheeding ears. There could be nothing but "western blizzards" in the stories he heard of western opportunities. So the eastern farmer stayed where he was, in many cases to eke out a scanty existence on a stony fifty acres when he could have had for the asking 160 acres of the most fertile soil in Canada.

The Eastern Canada farmer lacked faith!

No one doubts the agricultural possibilities of the west for they have been proven by a succession of golden harvests, and thousands are moving in to the land of promise. The appeal to Eastern Canada had for years fallen upon deaf and skeptical ears, and the west then turned to the United States with its story; and the result was that in two years more settlers came from the United States than had come from Eastern Canada in the preceding ten years.

Will the Eastern Canada manufacturer be wiser than was the Eastern Canada farmer from 1885 to 1900? Just as tentatively as the west called to the east for settlers, it is now calling for manufacturers, and with stronger claims, for while there is plenty of land for the newcomer, the manufacturing trade, once secured, will be held, and those that get in now will grow with the country.

Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and other centres present strong claims upon the serious attention of the eastern manufacturer, and it remains to be seen whether he will profit by the lesson of the last two decades, or whether he will wait for the American manufacturer with his optimistic aggressiveness, to show the manufacturer also lack faith? The next question is, how long will it take? The next two years will answer the question.

American capital has reached the largest profits from land speculations, and there is now very little land remaining which can be obtained by capitalists en bloc; but American faith in the future of Western Canada is growing stronger every day and there is nothing more sure than that if the Canadian manufacturer does not soon awaken to his opportunities, American capital will very shortly build large factories in the farthest west. People will not forever be content to send 2,000 miles east for their goods, and the manufacturers who first commence to supply Alberta with goods "made in Alberta" will be apt to secure and hold the Alberta trade. The market is already a large one, but it is only in its infancy. A generation from now it is most likely that the population west of the lakes will be larger than the population east, and the western market will be larger than the eastern! Will it be served by the Canadian manufacturers who have established their factories in the west, or will it belong to the alert Americans?

What, then, are the special advantages which Edmonton offers to the manufacturer? Cheap power, abundance of raw material, good transportation facilities for the assembling of raw materials and for the distribution of the finished products, and proximity to a good market—these are the principal requirements of a good manufacturing town, and all of these Edmonton has to offer.

Is there any other place in the world where abundance of good coal may be had at $1.50 per ton, where expensive mining operations are not required, but where the coal may be loaded directly into barges and wagons? This is what Edmonton has to offer in the way of cheap fuel and consequently cheap power, and apparently she can offer it in practically unlimited quantities. For miles in all directions from Edmonton there is abundance of good coal at a very small depth below the surface of the ground. Extensive mining operations have not yet been attempted; no shafts have yet been sunk, all the mining being done on the level. The coal has practically all been obtained along the high river banks into which the miners dig and load their coal directly into barges. Until a short time ago coal was selling at Edmonton at $1.50 per ton; at the present time, owing to temporary circumstances, the price is a little higher. Practically the whole coal is transportation, and as teamsters are now commanding wages of $4.50 to $5 per day, as compared with $3 a short time ago, the price of coal has been slightly advanced. With mining operations on a large scale and up to date methods of delivery coal will be less than $1.50 per ton. This coal is well adapted for both manufacturing and domestic purposes, and there are great opportunities for the development in Edmonton of an immense coal mining industry.

Coal being so cheap, little attention has yet been paid to the development of water power; but Edmonton is rich in "white coal" as well as in black, and should the supply of the latter ever be exhausted there is any amount of the former now going to waste. The city now has its own electric light and water plants and is prepared to assist small industries by supplying cheap power, water and light.

Abundant raw material for various industries is also close at hand, but as this phase of the question can be best treated by example it is discussed below in connection with specific industries. Equally important is the question of transportation. Two railways, the C. P. R. and the C. N. R., now serve Edmonton and a third, the G. T. P., is assured in the very near future. While the plans of James J. Hill are not yet definitely known it is unlikely that he will overlook Edmonton. It may therefore be safely assumed that in the very near future Edmonton will be served by four different railroads.

What of the market for Edmonton-manufactured goods? Not so large yet as it very soon will be, but nevertheless a market of respectable proportions. Moreover it is a market with larger proportionate buying powers than a market in the east. Westerners make money more easily than easterners, and they spend it more freely. At the present rate of immigration it will be but a short time until there are as many people west of Winnipeg as east. The manufacturer first in the field will possess a very considerable advantage. Some manufacturers somewhere will very soon appreciate the possibilities of profit in supplying the western people with western-made goods if the Canadian manufacturers do not seize the opportunity others will.

The farmers in the Edmonton section of the west do not, like their fellows in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, devote all their energies to the growing of wheat, but go in for mixed farming and the raising of stock. There would be large profit in the raising of hogs if an adequate market were provided. The majority of the farmers come from the corn states of the republic and have been accustomed to raising hogs. Alberta can grow the best of barley and, as everyone in the business knows, the Canadian barley-fed bacon is much in favor on the English market. The natural pasture is also well adapted to feeding hogs, and clover and alfalfa are easily grown. Scores of American farmers living in Alberta have told the secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade that they would raise hogs if they had a market. Within 100 miles, for easy shipping distances, of Edmonton, there are, at the very lowest estimate, 15,000 farmers. When the industry was established a million hogs a year would not be too much to expect from them.

As a home market the industry would have from Manitoba to the Pacific, now largely supplied with American products, and on goods for export the C.P.R. is prepared to quote a rate from Edmonton to Liverpool only one-half cent per pound higher than the rate from Eastern Canada. The lower cost of raw material would more than counterbalance this disadvantage.

As a consumer of by-product the soap factory is a natural adjunct of the packing industry. At the present time there are two soap factories in the west with a third projected in Saskatchewan. These factories can not supply the rapidly growing western market. Eastern-made soap is sent in by the carload. A factory in Edmonton would be in a splendid position to compete for western trade.

Although Edmonton is a milling centre of considerable importance every pound of biscuits consumed in Alberta has scarcely commenced. Oats weighing in hundreds and thousands of miles over railroads which have already hauled east the flour or wheat of which the biscuits are made, is it reasonable to suppose that this will continue indefinitely? There can be but one answer, and again the question arises whether the industries of the Edmonton to be built by Canadian or by American capital.

Already the flour milling industry of Edmonton and the neighboring town of Strathcona has reached large proportions, but it is capable of great expansion and the production of cereals has scarcely commenced. Oats weighing in 40 pounds per bushel are ordinary in Alberta and 48-pound oats are not uncommon. In many quarters the impression exists to prevail that the only winter wheat section in the west is in Southern Alberta, but this is a mistake as it has been demonstrated that the best winter wheat in the world can be grown in northern and central Alberta. It is now being grown successfully in the vicinity of Edmonton but it has attracted comparatively little attention. Sanday & Co., the Liverpool grain firm, who purchase probably more actual grain than any other firm in the world, were so much impressed with the superiority of the

It is what we have been working for years.

We have it in the Oxford Hot Water Boiler. With this boiler as the heart of your heating system you have the best yet produced.

We have taken the advantage of every scientific point that would add power to our boiler, and the result has reached our highest expectations.

The ash pit is particularly spacious and our high base is provided with an ash sifter which removes all dead ashes and leaves the coal so it can be shovelled back into the fire with the least trouble and no dust.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The hollow triangular grate-bars give a particularly clear draught. Clearing the fire-pot of dead ashes is accomplished by a sharp turn of the handle.

The flues of the first section are made bell-shaped, and the walls of the fire-pot are inclined inwards so as to give a large surface to the action of the fire. Write for our book illustrating and explaining the Gurney Oxford steam and hot water apparatus, which we will send free.

A Booth Holder's Complaint

To the Editor of the Bulletin—

I would ask you to kindly publish the following in your paper as I deem it my duty to place the following facts before the citizens of Edmonton for their consideration.

Is it fair, or is it a straight business proposition? This is the question I have been pondering ever since we paid over the neat little sum of eighty ($80.00) dollars for a nine foot space for four days, underneath the Grand Stand at the first Provincial Exhibition.

Probably I may be misjudging the facts or taking a one-sided view of the case, but I will not ask you to trust to the reason of my frail judgment, but will try to convince all by the world's greatest teacher, comparison.

In Winnipeg four years ago, the booths were put up at auction two days before the fair and the highest bidder had first choice of stands. The preferred positions there cost the buyer eighty-four ($84.00) dollars for six days or fourteen ($14.00) dollars per day, while here in Edmonton for four days' right the booth had to pay from twenty to twenty-five dollars per day, or equal to nearly twice the sum paid for the same right in the prairie city in 1902.

In Winnipeg the average attendance was 25,000 per day, while the caterer at the First Provincial Fair of Alberta was privileged to feed only his share of 4,000 each day. Taking for granted that in Winnipeg three times as many booths were let as our capital city granted, then the booth manager at the Winnipeg fair would still have five times the chances of winning that the Edmonton caterer had for one-third the money as the booths average only 727 each there for six days, while here they averaged $5.00 for four days.

There they had special forenoon attractions. Here we had not so much as a ball game or a single number to draw people to the grounds before the races began.

At night the fire works were among the missing features. And in fact the scanty crowd lasted merely from the scoring of the first heat to the finish of the last race or on an average of about three or four hours each day. How much money can three men take over a nine foot counter in four hours? Where would the crowd have been had it rained for an hour between eleven and one o'clock? I am safe in saying that not a stand on the ground would have come out clear except for the beautiful weather.

The average receipts of a booth from 6.30 at night till 2 o'clock the next afternoon would not exceed $10.00 as there was nothing to keep the people at the grounds after the last race. Could there not have been some athletic sports? Would that be asking too much to enquire why such many sports as running and jumping were not on the program? These are what were looked for in the mornings and the ball games would also help both the association and the managers of the booths and lunch counters.

The report is taken for truth that all the booth privileges were sold to a so called speculator who after doubling the price sub-let them to the people who undertook the work and the risks. Is that business or is it an unfair rate off? If this money was allowed to be granted by a middle man, we hold it as an injustice to both citizens and caterers. If these were not sub-let, why did the collector refuse to accept a cheque made out to the Sec. Treas. of the association?

I would like to know if the association can show receipts for $1,240 which was the rent paid in for the twelve booths under the grand stand. If not, why not? It was certainly paid by the booth managers.

When each hired a booth a deposit of half the sum was made or enough to let the speculator out then, the balance, or about $1,500.00 in all as his profits were collected the second day of the fair, so his great risk cost him nothing, and his profits exceeded those of all the booth-keepers together. We were told when we took our booths that not a booth would be erected between the grand stand and the gate, but when the fair opened three or four booths stood four square among the trees midway between the entrance to the gate and the grand stand. Is that business, truth, or fair play? Each of the stands besides occupying the best location on the ground were built four square with 80 feet of counters or as much space as nine stands under the grand stand. Is that justice to us?

I am not speaking individually, but am voicing the sentiments of most of the booth holders, among whom are some small winners and some big losers, so these are not the thoughts of a knocker or of a kicker, but of one who wishes to give every man his dues. I am also glad to say I am not a loser on the deal, but was it the fault of the brilliant soil or of the southern breezes that made over half of the booth managers come out of the undertaking in debt? That is my conundrum.

Are booths and lunch counters not necessities? If not, why are they rented? If they are why not give them a chance?

I hope that the association will consider the matter and that next year the caterers as well as the association may get better terms and by working in unity each will consider as he puts his shoulder to the wheel that he is helping his country, city, association and himself, by making our fair the grandest in the west.

Thanking you for space, I am

Yours truly

A victim,

E. A. JONES.

EDMONTON'S CALL FOR FACTORIES

red winter wheat grown near Edmonton that as an experiment they bought 16,000 bushels at an advance of four cents per bushel over the price of No. 1 northern. This is equal to an advance of one cent per bushel over No. 1 hard wheat. There are three mills in Edmonton and seven in the vicinity.

There is a heavy demand in the west for building material, including paint, and consequently a large market for linseed oil, which makes the opportunity for linseed oil mills at Edmonton. The Alberta climate is admirably adapted for the growing of flax.

The manufacture in Edmonton of pressed bricks is already a very considerable industry and the product is entirely consumed in the home market. Orders have come unsolicited from as far west as Winnipeg, but Edmonton manufacturers are not yet able to fill them. This industry is capable of large expansion.

Edmonton is also a lumbering centre of some importance, the mills cutting about 2,000,000 feet of lumber last year. A new mill is now being built which, it is estimated, will increase the output 50 per cent. The timber is brought down the Saskatchewan river and the supply will last for many years to come.

An integral part of the lumber industry is the planing mill and sash and door factory, and they are on a large scale in Edmonton. These manufacturers are branching out and are now making a fine line of bank and office fittings as well as store fixtures, etc.

In three months' time the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will come west to their annual convention in Winnipeg. Following the convention there is to be a tour of the west and Edmonton is among the points to be visited. Manufacturers will then have opportunity to see for themselves the solid advantages which Edmonton has to offer. They will appreciate the opportunities offered by cheap power, unsurpassed distributing facilities and a rapidly growing market. They will also appreciate the equitable system of taxation in force in Edmonton for the city has practically a single tax. Land values only are taxed and a manufacturer is not fined by the city by way of increased taxed when he erects valuable buildings. Moreover, the rate of taxation is not high, the average for several years having been about 16 mills.

When they consider all these advantages, it is confidently believed that many Canadian manufacturers on their western tour will decide to establish branches in Edmonton. One thing is certain, industries Edmonton must and will have; whether Canadian or American remains to be seen.

THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY

The investing public of Edmonton have had placed before them for a considerable time is that of purchasing a block of one of the finest west-end properties ever placed on the market at extremely reasonable prices and on very easy terms.

Frontage on Jasper Ave.

NORTH JASPER PLACE

Frontage on Jasper Ave.

Is certainly one of the choicest suburban properties lying to the West of the City. Stands beautifully high, commanding an open view of the city and has the advantage of frontage on the recognised, business section, namely, Jasper Avenue. At no distant date this property will be in great demand as a Choice West End Residential Location and with a street car service will prove one of the greatest investments offered this season.

Get in on the Ground Floor

STOP AND CONSIDER

Get in on the Ground Floor

North Jasper place has been very carefully subdivided by the Dominion Land Surveyors into Blocks, each containing twenty full sized lots of 150 feet x 50 feet. The streets are 66 feet wide and the lanes 16 feet. With the property sub-divided in this manner there will be no trouble in the future about allowances for streets, etc. The same cannot be said of many of the sub-divisions. Our advice is to buy a block, half block or quarter Block of this property, and buy it NOW, as there is nothing like getting in on the ground floor.

REASONABLE PRICES

EASY TERMS

With the view to giving the small investor an equal opportunity to that generally offered to the man with greater means, we have decided to offer a limited number of quarter and half blocks at the wholesale price. This will be readily appreciated by all who have only a small amount available for investment. We have quoted the very lowest possible figures on this property and from present indications the whole sub-division will be sold within the next thirty days. Prices must be advanced next week.

THE Oxford Hot Water Boiler takes advantage of every known scientific point which will increase the generation and distribution of heat. We have increased its power enormously by making the walls of the fire pot slant inwards above the fire. This gives a greater surface for the direct action of the rays of heat.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The first water section over the fire is double depth, with bell-shaped flues, which also increases the surface directly exposed to the action of the heat.

These are but two of the exclusive points which make the Oxford Hot Water Boiler the most economical and most efficient home-warming apparatus on the market. If you will drop us a post card, we will send you our catalogue, which explains the whole system.

He is also a member of the Argonaut Rowing club, and has figured on their football and hockey teams. It is safe to say that Bloomfield is the best paddler in Canada. In a straightaway course he has never been beaten in the singles, while he has only suffered one defeat in a race with a turn. It was rumored yesterday that W. Childs, another member of the Canoe Club, had been ordered to Edmonton by the Heintzman Company. If he goes he will leave on Saturday night. The pair will make a great addition to the western sporting world. Bloomfield first came into prominence by doing his flips in front of the Toronto Canoe Club on the Bay, and it was he who started the fad of following the ferry boats and being pulled along by the swells. The fact of "Blom" will be a big one to Toronto, both socially and from an athletic standpoint, and he carries the best wishes of his many friends to the West.

SPORTING NOTES

WETASKIWIN WON AT RED DEER (Special to the Bulletin)

Red Deer, July 11.—The Wetaskiwin ball team came up against Red Deer tonight and retired covered with glory. The game was a hot one from start to finish and resulted in a win for Wetaskiwin by a score of 3 to 0. The honors were evenly divided between the batters, but Red Deer lost by poor base running and a couple of unfortunate errors. Wetaskiwin scored their first run in the third inning when Pittman came up with a little hit, Martin struck out, Berry advanced Pittman and died on first, Stokes making a neat hit and brought in the only earned run. The next four innings were blanks, but in the ninth things happened that made the fans think McPhee's had struck town ahead of time. This is how the balloon ascended. Stokes hit a fly to Houston, who was out. Gouchee hit to Houston, who made a splendid stop, but threw wild to first, the ball going into the crowd and Gouchee reaching third. Murray hit to Moore, got a hit and stole second. Berry made a hit and scored two runs and the parachute descended. The score:

Wetaskiwin 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 2-3-51
Summary—Struck out, Pittman, 12; Moore, 11; passed balls, Gouchee, 1. Hit by pitcher, Edgington; bases on balls, off Pittman, 1; two base hits, Brazier, 1, left on bases, Red Deer, 6; Wetaskiwin 5. Time 1:20. Umpire, Cooke. Batteries, Pittman and Gouchee, Moore and Edgington. Forfees, Red Deer's catcher, was struck by a ball Tuesday night and was unable to play but Edgington was there with the goods.

ATHLETIC MEETING POSTPONED

The first meeting of the shareholders of the athletic association, which was to have been held last evening, had to be postponed, for the reason that none of the shareholders turned up. The meeting will be held on Monday evening in the office of Henry Fraser, fur buyer for McDougall & Secord. It is urgently requested that as many of the shareholders as possible be on hand, as the meeting will be an important one. A call has been made on the shareholders for 50 per cent of the stock at the meeting the buying of grounds will be discussed amongst other things.

LACROSSE WITH STRATHCONA

Tomorrow evening the Strathcona lacrosse team and the combined Edmonton-Capital team will play a game on the Second street grounds, commencing at 7 o'clock. The Edmonton team has not yet been picked. The grounds are free for this evening and the boys should be able to get in some practice.

TURN OUT FOR PRACTICE

Notwithstanding the many intimations received from time to time, the majority of the members of the lacrosse teams still persist in keeping away from the grounds on practice nights. It is left to a few of the faithful to keep the thing going, and as regular as practice nights come round, these few are always on the spot with their sticks. It is up to the boys to turn out every fine evening and work in a couple of hours good practice.
